Law Students Help Clarify the 24-Hour Rule

Sheikh Rayees • August 14, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

When two law students from Bengaluru found themselves observing proceedings at the Kerala High Court, they could never have anticipated they'd become a crucial part of a landmark decision. Justice Bechu Kurian Thomas, presiding over a bail plea in a serious drug case, noticed their focused attention and, in an unusual but inspired move, asked for their assistance. Second-year students Nikhina Thomas and Neha Babu were appointed as amici curiae,...
