Aligarh Muslim University Case

Supreme Court Outlines Minority Institution Criteria

Sheikh Rayees • November 9, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a landmark judgment regarding Aligarh Muslim University (AMU), India's Supreme Court has laid out critical guidelines for determining when an educational institution qualifies for minority status under Article 30(1) of the Indian Constitution. Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud emphasized that both establishment and administration must be jointly fulfilled by a minority community for an institution to claim such protection. Key Takeaways from the Judgment Establishment and...
