Supreme Court Pulls Back the Curtain on Judge Appointments

Sheikh Rayees • May 6, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a sweeping act of judicial transparency, the Supreme Court has, for the first time, laid bare the full machinery behind how judges are appointed to the nation's higher courts. This bold move, now live on the top court's website, reveals the layered process that shapes the bench—from state whispers to collegium deliberations—and even bloodlines within the judiciary. Now open to public scrutiny are the inner workings of the appointment...
