Bombay High Court Steps In to Shield Students' Data After Alleged Cyber Extortion Bid

Sheikh Rayees • June 20, 2026

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Bombay High Court has issued an urgent interim order preventing an alleged hacker collective from publishing confidential information belonging to children enrolled in schools operated by a charitable educational trust. The protection was granted after the trust approached the Court alleging that a cybercriminal group identified as FulcrumSec had infiltrated its databases and was threatening to release sensitive records unless a ransom of $750,000 was paid. While...
