Care, Charity, and Property Supreme Court Redefines 'Consideration' in Landmark Case

Sheikh Rayees • November 18, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court delivered a notable verdict affirming that "consideration" in legal terms extends beyond monetary transactions, validating a property transfer agreement that obligated the recipient to care for the transferors and engage in charitable activities. A bench comprising Justices CT Ravikumar and Sanjay Karol overturned a prior ruling by the Madras High Court, emphasizing that consideration under Indian law can manifest in non-monetary forms such as...
