Andhra Pradesh High Court Says Domestic Work for Judges Is Within Staff Duty

Sheikh Rayees • July 11, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a ruling that blends tradition with administration, the Andhra Pradesh High Court has upheld the controversial practice of assigning court subordinates to domestic duties at the homes of judges, brushing aside objections that such work falls outside official job descriptions. The judgment came in response to a plea by the Andhra Pradesh Judicial Office Subordinates Association, which had raised a red flag over the long-standing tradition. Their grievance? Court...
