Court Clears Goa Musician of Rape Charges, Citing Consensual Relations After Initial Encounter

Sheikh Rayees • September 12, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a significant ruling, the Goa Bench of the Bombay High Court dismissed a rape case against a local musician, noting that while the first instance of sexual interaction was non-consensual, subsequent encounters between the parties occurred with mutual consent. The bench, consisting of Justices MS Karnik and Valmiki Menezes, emphasized the complainant's awareness and capacity to make informed decisions about her relationship with the musician. The...
