Supreme Court Orders Review of Pharmaceutical Marketing Regulation

Editorial Team • October 8, 2026

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court on 8 October directed the Union government to constitute within two weeks a committee to examine unethical pharmaceutical marketing practices and the adequacy of existing regulation. Acting under Articles 32 and 142, the Court linked the issue to the constitutional right to health. The committee must consult petitioners, intervenors and other stakeholders, may seek expert assistance, and should recommend a regulatory or statutory framework...
