Courts' Sharp Focus on Hospital Safety After Kottayam Medical College Tragedy

Sheikh Rayees • July 10, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a probing session that underscored the weight of institutional accountability, the Kerala bench pressed state authorities for detailed responses on the recent collapse at Kottayam Medical College. Though the court described the public interest litigation supporting the case as “sketchily drafted,” it elected to press forward, citing the gravity of lapses in government hospital infrastructure. Rather than dismissing the petition outright, the judges outlined a series of...
