Supreme Court Frees Man After Finding Investigation Riddled with Flaws

Sheikh Rayees • February 10, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a dramatic turn of events, the Supreme Court overturned the conviction of a man sentenced to death for allegedly murdering six family members, including his four children and brother. The ruling cited a deeply flawed investigation and a prosecution case riddled with inconsistencies, ultimately concluding that the evidence presented was too weak to sustain a conviction. "The fabric of the prosecution case is full of holes—holes that are impossible..."
