

THE

LAWYERS' POST

BY THE COURT CAST PROJECT

SUPREME COURT

Death Sentence Unraveled

Supreme Court Frees Man After 11 Years, Blasts 'Bloodthirsty Enthusiasm' of Lower Courts

Sheikh Rayees • July 17, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a stinging rebuke of the justice system's failure, the Supreme Court has acquitted a man who spent over a decade on death row for a quadruple murder he likely never committed — a conviction the apex court said was built on contradictions, investigative sloppiness, and a judicial rush to punish. The man, condemned for allegedly murdering his wife, sister-in-law, and two toddlers in 2013, was freed after the Court...

Full report • lawyerspost.in

OPEN JUDGMENT PDF

FULL STORY