COURT OF RECORD

Delhi High Court Denies Euthanasia for Man in Vegetative State for Over a Decade

Sheikh Rayees • July 8, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

Amid a case tinged with despair, the Delhi High Court stood firm against a plea for euthanasia concerning a man bedridden and suffering since 2013. Despite his harrowing condition, the court emphasized the legal boundaries, declaring that no one, including physicians, can end a life through lethal means, irrespective of intent. Court's Ruling and Rationale In a judgment rendered on July 2, Justice Subramonium Prasad dismissed the appeal by Harish...
