Fraud Allegations Demand Courtroom Scrutiny, Not Arbitration

Sheikh Rayees • March 14, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

A case involving allegations of fraudulent tender submissions has led the Delhi High Court to reaffirm that serious fraud disputes, especially those entangling public authorities and international entities, belong in civil courts rather than arbitration panels. The dispute originated from a 2017 Airports Authority of India (AAI) tender for the supply and maintenance of 4,000 baggage trolleys at various airports. Bentwood Seating System, which claimed to be the Indian affiliate...
