Delhi High Court Pulls the Plug on Stream-Ripping Havens in Saregama's Fight for Its Music

Sheikh Rayees • November 19, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a move that sent a jolt through the underbelly of online music piracy, the Delhi High Court has ordered the shutdown of thirty websites accused of turning streaming platforms into free-for-all download shops. The case, brought forward by Saregama, spotlighted a digital sleight of hand known as “stream ripping”—the art of converting streaming tracks into permanent offline files.
