Delhi High Court Slams Brakes on Foreign Arbitration It Deems 'Unfair and Oppressive'

Sheikh Rayees • July 28, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a ruling that sends a strong signal on the limits of arbitration's reach, the Delhi High Court has declared that Indian civil courts are empowered — and at times obliged — to halt foreign-seated arbitrations when they appear to cross the line into the territory of harassment or injustice. The case at hand revolved around a high-stakes contractual fallout between Engineering Projects (India) Limited (EPIL), a government-run PSU, and...
