High Court Exonerates Lawyers in 17-Year Legal Saga

Sheikh Rayees • November 22, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

A simple request for identification spiraled into a 17-year ordeal, but the Bombay High Court has now closed the chapter, exonerating three lawyers accused of assaulting and obstructing Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) officers during a 2007 raid. The Court declared the accusations unfounded, characterizing the case as a result of the CBI officer's "wounded ego." The legal battle began when Gobindram Daryanomal Talreja, Haresh Sobhraj Motwani, and...
