Emerging Concerns Over Religious Conversions Threaten Majority Status

Allahabad High Court's Warning

Sheikh Rayees • July 2, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a striking verdict, the Allahabad High Court has raised alarm over the escalating trend of religious conversions, warning that if unchecked, the majority populace could face minority status in the future. The court, presided by Justice Rohit Ranjan Agarwal, underscored its stance while dismissing a bail plea under the Uttar Pradesh Prohibition of Unlawful Conversion of Religion Act, 2021. The case highlighted an incident where individuals, including those from...
