Eviction Isn't a Right, It's a Last Resort

Supreme Court Denies Mother's Bid to Remove Son from Ancestral Home

Sheikh Rayees • March 28, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a judgment that cut through emotional turmoil with legal precision, the Supreme Court has ruled that elderly parents cannot automatically evict children from their homes under the Senior Citizens Act—unless the circumstances demand it. The bench, comprising Justices Pankaj Mithal and SVN Bhatti, shut down a plea by an elderly mother seeking the removal of her son from their ancestral house in Uttar Pradesh. The strained parent-child relationship, while...
