Gujarat High Court Upholds State's Role in Minority School Appointments

Sheikh Rayees • February 2, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a significant ruling, the Gujarat High Court has upheld the state government's authority to regulate the hiring of teachers and principals in religious and linguistic minority institutions. The decision comes in response to multiple petitions challenging a 2021 amendment to the Gujarat Secondary & Higher Secondary Education Act, which allows the state to establish rules governing appointments in these schools. A division bench ruled that these regulations do not...
