High Court Nixes Land Transfer Ban in Noida Flood Plains, Citing Constitutional Rights

Sheikh Rayees • August 28, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Allahabad High Court has overturned a Uttar Pradesh government decree that required district approval for transferring agricultural land in the flood plains between the Hindon and Yamuna rivers. The ruling deemed such restrictions beyond the powers granted by the Disaster Management Act and contrary to constitutional rights. The contentious decision, initially enacted under the UP Industrial Area Development Act and the Disaster Management Act...
