Supreme Court Condemns Neglect of Sanitation in Judiciary

Sheikh Rayees • January 16, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a profound reflection on the state of judicial infrastructure, the Supreme Court declared that inadequate toilet facilities in courts across the country compromise human dignity and access to justice. The bench emphasized that sanitation is not a mere convenience but an essential facet of human rights under Article 21 of the Constitution, which guarantees the right to a safe and hygienic environment. Highlighting the systemic neglect, the Court noted...
