Supreme Court Slams 17-Year Freeze in Gujarat Suit, Demands Accountability

Sheikh Rayees • June 3, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a blistering rebuke that speaks volumes about systemic stagnation, the Supreme Court has hauled up a Gujarat Commercial Civil Court for taking an astounding 17 years—yes, seventeen—just to frame issues in a straightforward recovery suit. What followed was no better: an abrupt termination of the plaintiff's evidence and a summary dismissal, all without a whisper of proper adjudication. The apex court, visibly appalled, minced no words: “What is shocking.....”
