Kerala Consumer Panel Awards Farmer INR90,750 After Delayed AirAsia Flight Ruins Rare Hybrid Sapling

Sheikh Rayees • June 9, 2026

PUBLISHED REPORT

A consumer commission in Kerala has ordered AirAsia India Limited to compensate a farmer after a flight delay allegedly led to the destruction of a rare hybrid jackfruit sapling he had brought from Indonesia. The District Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission in Palakkad found the airline guilty of deficiency in service and directed it to pay a total of INR90,750 to the complainant, covering ticket costs, additional travel expenses, compensation, and...
