Errors Demand Correction, Estoppel Cannot Stand in the Way

Sheikh Rayees • November 25, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Kerala High Court underscored that when judicial errors arise, the principle of estoppel cannot obstruct the pursuit of justice. This pivotal observation came from a bench comprising Justices PB Suresh Kumar and C Pratheep Kumar while revisiting and overturning its prior decision in a child custody dispute. The earlier order had granted interim custody of a child to the father while permitting the mother to later petition for custody...
