Kerala Court Grants Parole for Love That Refused to Wait

Sheikh Rayees • July 12, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a courtroom where law usually reigns over emotion, love stepped in—and won. The Kerala High Court, moved by a woman’s unshakable devotion to her fiancé serving a life sentence, granted him 15 days' parole to marry her. Not because prison rules allowed it, but because, in the judge’s eyes, love demanded it. The man, convicted in a conspiracy and murder case, had his request for emergency parole denied by...
