Nine Calcutta High Court Judges Get a One-Year Extension Instead of Permanent Status

Sheikh Rayees • July 25, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a surprising move, the Supreme Court Collegium has decided to extend the terms of nine additional judges of the Calcutta High Court for only one more year, despite earlier recommendations for their permanent appointment. This decision, made on Wednesday, contrasts with the High Court Collegium's unanimous recommendation and the Central government's support for making these judges permanent. The judges affected by this decision are Justices Biswaroop...
