Supreme Court Slams Door on Absconders Seeking Anticipatory Bail

Sheikh Rayees • April 11, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a sharp message to those playing hide-and-seek with the justice system, the Supreme Court has made it unequivocally clear—those who dodge court summons, obstruct warrants, or vanish from the radar when trial calls cannot expect the shield of anticipatory bail. The ruling came while dealing with a case involving Aditya Sarda and others, accused in a sprawling financial fraud linked to the Adarsh Group. After initial summons went unanswered...
