Rajasthan High Court Initiates Major Reforms Against Food Adulteration

Sheikh Rayees • July 2, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a pivotal move, the Rajasthan High Court has taken proactive measures against the pervasive issue of food adulteration, raising critical concerns over the effectiveness of existing regulatory frameworks. Highlighting the shortcomings of the Food Safety and Standard Act, 2006, the court underscored the alarming gaps in monitoring and enforcement, particularly in unorganized sectors crucial to food production. Justice Anoop Kumar Dhand, presiding over the case...
