Supreme Court Reclaims Justice for Child Rape Survivor After Decades of Delay

Sheikh Rayees • March 21, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has revived a long-dormant flame of justice, overturning a 2013 acquittal handed down by the Rajasthan High Court in a 1986 child rape case. A six-year-old girl, violated and voiceless, had been denied justice for nearly four decades—not for lack of evidence, but because her trauma was met with judicial indifference. In a powerful judgment, a bench comprising Justices Sanjay Karol and Vikram Nath tore apart the...
