SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Backs Extra Pay for Judicial Officers with LL.M., Even After ACP Hike

Sheikh Rayees • January 31, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

Judicial officers who receive financial benefits under the Assured Career Progression (ACP) scheme are still entitled to an additional salary increment upon earning an LL.M. degree, the Supreme Court has reaffirmed. The ruling came in response to a petition from a Manipur judicial officer seeking clarity on whether the higher qualification allowance applies at every ACP stage. The court, referencing its prior decision in the All India Judges Association case,...
