Supreme Court Bans Unapproved Black & White Photos in Court Filings

Sheikh Rayees • September 11, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a recent directive, the Supreme Court has ordered the Registry to reject any black and white photographs submitted by parties unless they have received explicit permission from the Court. Justices Surya Kant and Ujjal Bhuyan noted that blurred and low-quality black and white photocopies have frequently been submitted, prompting this new measure to ensure clarity and proper documentation. 3643520242024-09-09-560400
