Supreme Court Calls for Efficiency in Judgments

Keep Court Dictations Short, Save Time

Sheikh Rayees • October 22, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has urged High Court judges to streamline court proceedings by limiting the time spent dictating lengthy judgments. On Monday, the court advised that if a judgment's dictation is expected to exceed 20-25 minutes, only the operative part should be pronounced in court, with detailed reasoning to follow within five days. This recommendation, made by a bench including Justice Dipankar Datta and Justice Prashant Kumar Mishra, seeks to...
