Supreme Court Calls for Financial Empowerment of Homemakers by Indian Husbands

Sheikh Rayees • July 11, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a landmark ruling, the Supreme Court has emphasized the responsibility of Indian husbands to financially support their wives who lack independent income sources. The judgment highlights the plight of homemakers, underscoring their vulnerability due to financial dependence within matrimonial homes. Justices stressed the need for husbands to ensure their wives' financial security, enabling them access to personal expenses beyond household budgets. The decision...
