Supreme Court Clarifies Bail Can Be Revoked Amid Serious Allegations Despite No Misuse

Sheikh Rayees • May 21, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a pivotal ruling, the Supreme Court has asserted that a court which grants bail retains the authority to revoke it if serious allegations surface against the accused, even if there has been no misuse of the bail conditions. “If there are serious allegations against the accused, the same court that granted bail can cancel it, irrespective of any misuse,” declared Justices Hima Kohli and Ahsanuddin Amanullah. The bench also...
