SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Clarifies Conditions for Modifying Domestic Violence Orders

Sheikh Rayees • September 26, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a significant ruling, the Supreme Court clarified the conditions under which modifications can be sought regarding orders issued under the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2005. The court asserted that requests for alteration, modification, or revocation of such orders—specifically those under Section 12—must be predicated on changes in circumstances that occur after the original order was issued. The court emphasized, “For the invocation of...
