Supreme Court Declares Job Ads Invalid Without Specified Vacancies

Sheikh Rayees • February 11, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has ruled that advertisements for public employment must explicitly mention the number of available posts. Failure to do so renders the recruitment process illegal and unconstitutional due to a lack of transparency. A bench comprising Justices Pankaj Mithal and Sandeep Mehta upheld the termination of candidates selected through a 2010 Jharkhand High Court recruitment drive, as the advertisement failed to specify the number of vacancies. Citing precedent...
