Supreme Court

No Room for Bail Once Trials Begin in Grave Offenses”

Sheikh Rayees • December 5, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has emphasized a firm stance on bail in cases involving serious crimes such as murder, rape, and dacoity. A bench comprising Justices JB Pardiwala and R. Mahadevan observed that once trial proceedings commence and prosecution witnesses are being examined, courts should generally resist granting bail to the accused. The bench underlined that bail could only be considered in exceptional circumstances, such as undue delays in the trial...
