SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Opens Door for Heirs to Carry Forward Victim's Appeal Against Acquittal

Sheikh Rayees • August 24, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

A significant ruling from the Supreme Court has ensured that the fight for justice does not fade away with the death of a victim. The Court has clarified that when a victim dies during the pendency of an appeal challenging an accused's acquittal, their legal heirs can step into their place and continue the case.
