Police Records Can Shape Motor Accident Negligence Decisions

Sheikh Rayees • January 3, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a reaffirmation of legal principles surrounding motor accident claims, the Supreme Court emphasized that police records, including charge sheets and investigative findings, can play a critical role in assessing negligence. A bench comprising Justices CT Ravikumar and Rajesh Bindal drew from the precedent set in Mangla Ram v. Oriental Insurance Co. Ltd. (2018), underscoring that charge sheets filed against a driver can serve as evidence of negligent and rash...
