SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Pulls Up High Court for Replacing Demolition Decree With Compensation Without Plaintiff's Consent

Sheikh Rayees • June 22, 2026

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has ruled that a court cannot force a litigant to accept monetary compensation in place of an injunction when no such relief was ever sought in the pleadings. The Court also clarified that once a decree is set aside, an executing court cannot be asked to determine issues that do not arise from any surviving decree. A Bench comprising Justice S.V.N. Bhatti and Justice Atul S. Chandurkar...
