Supreme Court Rules Appellate Courts Can't Introduce New Issues or Cases

Sheikh Rayees • September 2, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court recently affirmed that appellate courts cannot introduce new cases or issues for parties during civil suits if those issues were not part of the original pleadings. This decision reinforces the principle that appellate courts must adhere strictly to the issues initially raised by the parties. The bench, consisting of Justice Bela M. Trivedi and Justice Satish Chandra Sharma, emphasized that appellate courts are bound to resolve cases...
