Supreme Court Rules Out Rash Driving Based Solely on Overtaking

Sheikh Rayees • August 9, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a recent ruling, the Supreme Court clarified that attempting to overtake another vehicle does not automatically constitute rash or negligent driving. The judgment came from a case concerning an accident compensation claim under the Motor Vehicles Act. Justices CT Ravikumar and Sanjay Karol reviewed an appeal related to a tragic accident where a motorcyclist and his wife were struck by two tractors. The wife died instantly, and the husband...
