Supreme Court Shuts the Door on Juvenile Board's Do-Over

No Review Power, No Second Guessing

Sheikh Rayees • May 21, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a crisp rebuke delivered from the bench, the Supreme Court has clarified what should've been clear all along — the Juvenile Justice Board (JJB) is not a revolving door of decisions. Once it rules, it can't circle back for a redo. This ruling came down on May 20, as the country's top court weighed in on a case from Meerut where the JJB seemed to second-guess itself. In an...
