Supreme Court Slams Delayed Justice

Long Undertrial Imprisonment Violates Fundamental Rights

Sheikh Rayees • February 18, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has ruled that holding an accused in jail for six to seven years without a final verdict amounts to a violation of their fundamental right to a speedy trial under Article 21 of the Constitution. The ruling came as the court granted bail to a man charged under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), who had spent over five years in custody without a resolution to his...
