SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Slams High Court for 27 Adjournments, Frees Man Held Over Four Years

Sheikh Rayees • May 23, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

After nearly three years and eight months behind bars, a man finally won his freedom—not through prolonged hearings or endless delays, but thanks to the Supreme Court's sharp rebuke of the Allahabad High Court's habit of postponing his bail plea 27 times. The apex court made it crystal clear: when personal liberty is at stake, dragging cases like a slow-motion saga is unacceptable. The High Court's repeated adjournments turned what...
