Supreme Court Slams Registry for Ignoring Judicial Orders, Issues Stern Reminder

Sheikh Rayees • December 24, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court recently voiced strong criticism against its registry for failing to list cases as directed by judicial orders, underscoring the unacceptable nature of such defiance. This rebuke arose during proceedings related to six pleas involving the Hashimpura massacre, which had not been listed despite clear directives from the Court. A bench comprising Justices Abhay S. Oka and Augustine George Masih emphasized that the registry cannot bypass judicial instructions...
