SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Upholds Dismissal of CRPF Constable for Concealing Criminal Record

Sheikh Rayees • July 24, 2024

PUBLISHED REPORT

The Supreme Court has underscored the need for high standards in law enforcement appointments, terminating the employment of a CRPF Constable who failed to disclose past criminal charges. The Court's decision overturned a Gauhati High Court ruling that had reinstated the constable despite allegations of withholding crucial information during his recruitment process. The controversy began when the constable, during his application process, was asked to...
