SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Urges Citizenship Decision for Nigerian Detained in India

Sheikh Rayees • January 11, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a case highlighting complex intersections of immigration, law, and human rights, the Supreme Court of India has called on the Union Government to resolve the citizenship application of a Nigerian national detained in Tamil Nadu. The Court emphasized that indefinite detention in a special camp is untenable and urged authorities to decide within three months. The petitioner, a Nigerian national married to an Indian citizen, was detained after being...
