Supreme Court Urges Open Dialogue to Resolve Case Filing Delays

Sheikh Rayees • February 21, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

In a move aimed at tackling persistent delays in case listings, the Supreme Court has directed its Registry to consider the Supreme Court Advocates-on-Record Association's (SCAORA) proposal for regular Open House sessions. These sessions would serve as a forum for discussions between legal practitioners and court officials, fostering greater transparency in the verification and listing of newly filed cases. A bench comprising Justices Abhay S Oka and Augustine George...
