Tamil Nadu Battles Back

Supreme Court to Weigh Governor's 'Deemed Assent' Dispute

Sheikh Rayees • July 4, 2025

PUBLISHED REPORT

The constitutional chess match between Tamil Nadu and the Governor's office has reached the country's highest court. On Friday, the Supreme Court agreed to take up the State government's challenge to a Madras High Court order that stalled nine laws—each already deemed assented to by the Governor per the Supreme Court's own ruling in April. At the center of the dispute: who gets to appoint Vice-Chancellors in Tamil Nadu's public...
